CaringInfo, a program of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO), is a national consumer engagement initiative to improve care and the experience of caregiving during serious illness and at the end of life. As part of that effort, CaringInfo provides detailed guidance for completing advance directive forms in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

This package includes:

- Instructions for preparing your advance directive. Please read all the instructions.
- Your state-specific advance directive forms, which are the pages with the gray instruction bar on the left side.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

Check to be sure that you have the materials for each state in which you may receive healthcare. Because documents are state-specific, having a state-specific document for each state where you may spend significant time can be beneficial. A new advance directive is not necessary for ordinary travel into other states. The advance directives in this package will be legally binding only if the person completing them is a competent adult who is 18 years of age or older, or an emancipated minor.

ACTION STEPS

1. You may want to photocopy or print a second set of these forms before you start so you will have a clean copy if you need to start over.
2. When you begin to fill out the forms, refer to the gray instruction bars — they will guide you through the process.
3. Talk with your family, friends, and physicians about your advance directive. Be sure the person you appoint to make decisions on your behalf understands your wishes.
4. Once the form is completed and signed, photocopy, scan, or take a photo of the form and give it to the person you have appointed to make decisions on your behalf, your family, friends, healthcare providers, and/or faith leaders so that the form is available in the event of an emergency.

5. You may also want to save a copy of your form in your electronic healthcare record, or an online personal health records application, program, or service that allows you to share your medical documents with your physicians, family, and others who you want to take an active role in your advance care planning.
6. Idaho maintains an Advance Directive Registry. By filing your advance directive with the registry, your health care provider and loved ones may be able to find a copy of your directive in the event you are unable to provide one. You can read more about the registry, including instructions on how to file your advance directive, at <https://healthandwelfare.idaho.gov/services-programs/birth-marriage-death-records/advance-directives-and-registry-services>

INTRODUCTION TO YOUR IDAHO ADVANCE HEALTH CARE DIRECTIVE

This packet contains an Idaho Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care. This is a legal document that protects your right to refuse medical treatment you do not want, or to request treatment you do want, in the event you lose the ability to make decisions yourself:

The first part of your document is a Living Will. This section lets you state your wishes about medical care in the event that you are terminally ill or in a persistent vegetative state and can no longer make your own medical decisions.

The second part of your document is a Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care. This section lets you name someone to make decisions about your medical care — including decisions about life sustaining treatment — if you can no longer speak for yourself. The Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care is especially useful because it appoints someone to speak for you any time you are unable to make your own medical decisions, not only at the end of life.

Following your Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care is an Organ Donation Form.

How do I make my Idaho Advance Health Care Directive legal?

Idaho law requires that you sign your Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care. Although state law does not require you to sign your Directive for Health Care in the presence of a witness, it is a good idea to have your Living Will witnessed by at least one person who also signs the document to show that he/she personally knows you and believes you to be of sound mind. Your witnesses should not be:

- your agent,
- your doctor or other treating healthcare provider,
- an employee of your treating healthcare provider, unless he or she is related to you,
- an operator of a community care facility, or
- an employee of an operator of a community care facility, unless he or she is related to you.

Note: You do not need to notarize your Idaho Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care.

Whom should I appoint as my agent?

Your agent is the person you appoint to make decisions about your healthcare if you become unable to make those decisions yourself. Your agent may be a family member or a close friend whom you trust to make serious decisions. The person you name as your agent should clearly understand your wishes and be willing to accept the responsibility of making healthcare decisions for you.

You can appoint several alternate agents. The alternates will step in if the first person you name as an appointed person is unable, unwilling, or unavailable to act for you.

The person you appoint as your agent or alternate agent cannot be:

- your doctor or other treating healthcare provider,
- an employee of your treating healthcare provider, unless he or she is related to you,
- an operator of a community care facility, or
- an employee of an operator of a community care facility, unless he or she is related to you.

Should I add personal instructions to my advance directive?

Yes! One of the most important reasons to execute an advance directive is to have your voice heard. When you name an agent and clearly communicate to them what you want and don't want, they are in the strongest position to advocate for you. Because the future is unpredictable, be careful that you do not unintentionally restrict your agent's power to act in your best interest. Be especially careful with the words "always" and "never." In any event, be sure to talk with your agent and others about your future healthcare and describe what you consider to be an acceptable "quality of life."

When does my agent's authority become effective?

Your Living Will becomes effective when your doctor determines that either (a) that you are terminally ill that the application of artificial life-sustaining procedures would only serve to prolong artificially your life, and that your death will occur with or without the use of life-sustaining procedures, or (b) that you are in a persistent vegetative state.

Your Durable Power of Attorney goes into effect when your doctor determines that you are no longer able to make or communicate your health care decisions.

You retain the primary authority for your healthcare decisions as long as you are able to make your wishes known.

Agent Limitations

Your agent will be bound by the current laws of Idaho as they regard pregnancy and termination of pregnancies.

What if I change my mind?

You may revoke your Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care at any time by:

- canceling, defacing, obliterating, burning, tearing, or otherwise destroying the document, or directing another to do so in your presence,
- signing a written revocation, or
- orally expressing your intent to revoke your document.

Mental Health Issues

These forms do not expressly address mental illness, although you can state your wishes and grant authority to your agent regarding mental health issues. The National Resource Center on Psychiatric Advance Directives maintains a website (<https://nrc-pad.org/>) with links to each state's psychiatric advance directive forms. If you would like to make more detailed advance care plans regarding mental illness, you could talk to your physician and an attorney about a durable power of attorney tailored to your needs.

What other important facts should I know?

In 2010, the Idaho Legislature passed the Freedom of Conscience for Health Care Professionals Act, which gives a physician the right to abstain from providing any health care service—including end-of-life treatment and care—that violates his or her conscience. Under the new law, "conscience" means the religious, moral, or ethical principles sincerely held by any person. Because this new law may have consequences regarding your advance-care planning, it is important that you talk to your health care provider about your advance-care wishes.

Be aware that your advance directive will not be effective in the event of a medical emergency, except to identify your agent. Ambulance and hospital emergency department personnel are required to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) unless you have a separate physician's order, which are typically called "prehospital medical care directives" or "do not resuscitate orders." DNR forms may be obtained from your state health department or department of aging (<https://www.hhs.gov/aging/state-resources/index.html>). Another form of orders regarding CPR and other treatments are state-specific POLST (portable orders for life sustaining treatment) (<https://polst.org/form-patients/>). Both a POLST and a DNR form MUST be signed by a healthcare provider and MUST be presented to the emergency responders when they arrive. These directives instruct ambulance and hospital emergency personnel not to attempt CPR (or to stop it if it has begun) if your heart or breathing should stop.
